

Fiber Optic Cable Splicing Tool Manufacturer

AI Overview

Leading manufacturers of fiber optic splicing equipment include Fujikura, AFL, Sumitomo, Corning, 3M, 3SAE, and Fitel. Key Manufacturers and Their Offerings

Fujikura Ltd. is a global leader in fusion splicers, offering core alignment and cladding alignment splicers, as well as mass fusion splicers for data centers and FTTH installations. Their equipment supports a wide range of fiber types, including polarization-maintaining, thin-diameter, large-diameter, and multi-core fibers, with features that enhance splice quality and efficiency.

AFL provides a comprehensive range of fiber optic solutions, including fusion splicers, cleavers, connectors, and test equipment. AFL's products are designed for broadband networks, data centers, and industrial applications, emphasizing reliability and scalability.

Sumitomo Electric manufactures high-quality fusion splicers and mechanical splicing tools, widely used in telecommunications and enterprise networks. Their splicers are known for precision and durability.

Corning offers splicing equipment and accessories, including fusion splicers, protection sleeves, and cleavers, with a focus on high-performance optical networks.

3M, 3SAE, and Fitel also produce fiber optic splicing tools and accessories, including mechanical splicing kits, cleavers, and protective sleeves, catering to both field and factory applications.

Distributors and Suppliers

Companies like Fiber Optic Center, Fiber Instrument Sales, and FiberOptic Supply distribute splicing equipment from these manufacturers, providing additional tools, consumables, and support for installation and maintenance.

These distributors often offer a wide selection of fusion splicers, cleavers, splice-on connectors, and protective accessories, making them convenient sources for both small-scale and large-scale projects.
