

Ghana Armored Temperature Measuring Optical Cable Factory

AI Overview

Ghana has several fiber optic cable manufacturers and engineering firms capable of supplying or installing armored temperature measuring optical cables, though specialized factories for this exact product are limited. Local Fiber Optic Manufacturers and Engineering Firms

Several companies in Ghana are active in fiber optic cable production and installation:

- African Diamond Cable Company Limited (Signal Cable): A specialized manufacturer with over 20 years of experience producing high-quality cables that meet international standards, potentially including fiber optic solutions suitable for temperature sensing applications.
- Reroy Cables Limited: Produces various communication and industrial cables, emphasizing quality and international compliance.
- U-Ton Engineering Limited: A Ghanaian engineering consortium involved in optical fiber networks, micro-ducts, and mini-cables, with experience in large-scale FTTH deployments, which could support the integration of temperature sensing optical cables.
- Telesuprecon and Datavoice & Power Solutions: Provide fiber optic network installation and maintenance services, which may include armored or specialized optical cables.

Armored Temperature Measuring Optical Cables

Armored temperature measuring optical cables, also known as fiber optic temperature sensing (FOTS) cables, are designed for high-precision temperature monitoring in challenging environments. Key features include:

- High mechanical strength: Resistant to tension, compression, and bending, ensuring durability in industrial or outdoor installations.
- High thermal conductivity and precision: Capable of measuring temperature with an error margin within  $\pm 0.5^{\circ}\text{C}$ .
- Electromagnetic immunity: Ideal for environments with high electromagnetic interference.
- Flexible installation: Soft and tough cables allow easy laying, maintenance, and integration i...
