

New Zealand lc optical module

AI Overview

LC optical modules are compact, high-performance transceivers widely used in New Zealand for data center and enterprise networking, supporting speeds up to 100Gbps over single-mode or multi-mode fiber. Overview LC optical modules are Small Form-factor Pluggable (SFP) devices that convert electrical signals into optical signals for transmission over fiber networks. They are hot-swappable, allowing installation or replacement without powering down network equipment, making them ideal for data centers and enterprise networks. LC modules are compatible with single-mode (SMF) and multi-mode fiber (MMF) and can support distances ranging from a few meters to 10 kilometers or more, depending on the module type. Key Features High Data Rates: LC modules can support speeds from 1Gbps (SFP) up to 100Gbps (QSFP28). Compact Design: The LC connector is small, allowing high port density in switches and routers. Plug-and-Play: Easy installation with minimal configuration required. Monitoring Capabilities: Some modules, like the MikroTik XQ+31LC10D, include digital diagnostics for optical power, temperature, voltage, and laser bias current, helping with predictive maintenance. Versatility: Compatible with a wide range of network equipment from vendors like Cisco, HPE, Dell, Juniper, and Arista. Popular LC Module Types in New Zealand SFP/SFP+ LC Modules: Typically used for 1GbE and 10GbE connections over short or long distances. SFP28 LC Modules: Support 25GbE links for high-performance data center applications. QSFP28-LR LC Modules: Support 100GbE over single-mode fiber up to 10 km, suitable for long-distance interconnects. MikroTik XQ+31LC10D: A 100Gb QSFP28 module with four 25Gbps channels, supporting distances up to 10 km and advanced monitoring features. Local Suppliers in New Zealand PBTech: Offers a range of SFP, SFP+, and QSFP28 transceivers for various speeds and distances. GoWiFi: Stocks high-speed QSFP28 modules like the MikroTik XQ+31LC10D for up to 10 km single-mode fiber. Genuine Modules NZ: Pro...
