

Slovenian high-voltage complete equipment distributor

AI Overview

Slovenia has several established suppliers and distributors of complete high-voltage electrical equipment, including Iskra, Kolektor ETRA, and ELES. Key High-Voltage Equipment Suppliers Iskra is a globally recognized provider of electrotechnical products and industrial solutions. They offer a wide range of high-voltage components, including capacitors, voltage composite insulators, junction and suspension equipment, and other specialized HV devices. Iskra also operates a high-voltage laboratory for testing and quality assurance, and holds ISO 9001:2008 and ISO 14001:2004 certifications, making them a reliable partner for complete high-voltage solutions in Slovenia. Kolektor ETRA specializes in power transformers and autotransformers up to 500 MVA and 420 kV, including step-up transformers, distribution transformers (50 kVA to 1600 kVA), furnace transformers, rectifier transformers, and grounding transformers. Their products comply with European Commission regulations and include environmentally friendly insulating liquids and dry-type transformers, covering a broad spectrum of high-voltage applications. ELES, d.o.o. is the Slovenian transmission system operator, managing the high-voltage transmission network. While primarily a system operator, ELES is involved in high-voltage infrastructure projects, including line renovations and cross-border transmission capacity expansions. They provide expertise in high-voltage network planning, operation, and safety compliance, which can be valuable for large-scale projects requiring integrated equipment solutions. Additional Considerations Many of these companies provide full-service solutions, including installation, testing, and maintenance of high-voltage systems. Certifications such as ISO 9001 and ISO 14001 ensure quality and environmental compliance. Suppliers like Iskra and Kolektor ETR...
