

Southeast Asia Professional Explosion-proof Distribution Box Manufacturer

AI Overview

Leading manufacturers in Southeast Asia include Miretti Group, Shenhai, Tengda, and Cheng Yi Engineering, offering certified explosion-proof distribution boxes and related solutions. Miretti Group provides explosion-proof solutions across the APAC region, including Singapore, Malaysia, Thailand, Indonesia, Vietnam, and the Philippines. They operate production facilities in Singapore and Suzhou, China, enabling rapid support for customers in Southeast Asia. Miretti offers ATEX, IECEx, and NEC-certified products, including distribution boxes, ex components, and power systems for hazardous environments such as oil & gas, material handling, and underground operations. They also provide customized solutions, on-site support, and spare parts availability for industrial clients. Shenhai Explosion-proof Technology Co., Ltd. Located in Yueqing, Zhejiang, China, Shenhai is a national high-tech enterprise with over 25 years of experience in explosion-proof technology. They manufacture explosion-proof distribution boxes, junction boxes, and pipe fittings, certified under ATEX and IECEx standards. Shenhai serves major clients like Sinopec, CNPC, CNOOC, and Mobil, and emphasizes rigorous testing, ISO9001, ISO14001, and ISO45001 certifications, ensuring high-quality and reliable products for hazardous environments. Tengda Explosion-proof Technology Co., Ltd. Tengda specializes in R&D, design, and manufacturing of explosion-proof electrical products, including distribution boxes, control boxes, junction boxes, and lamps. They offer a wide range of specifications and customization options, supporting large-scale industrial projects. Tengda emphasizes quality control from raw materials to finished products, and provides pre-sales, sales, and after-sales services, making them a strong option for Southeast Asian clients seeking tailored solutions.
