

UAE Low-Voltage Distribution Box Factory

AI Overview

The UAE hosts several reputable manufacturers of low-voltage (LV) complete distribution boxes, including Kesher Automation, Prime Electrical Manufacturing, Al Taqwa Electric, Verger Delporte, and Al Tawasul Switchgear, offering high-quality, customizable, and certified solutions for industrial, commercial, and infrastructure projects.

Key Manufacturers and Their Offerings

Kesher Automation is a leading UAE manufacturer of LT (low-tension) distribution boxes, providing CPRI-approved panels designed for safe and efficient power distribution. Their products feature robust enclosures, overload and short-circuit protection, and customizable configurations suitable for industrial and commercial environments, ensuring long-term durability and energy-efficient performance.

Prime Electrical Manufacturing (PEM), based in Dubai, offers a wide range of LV switchgear, power distribution, and control solutions. PEM partners with Schneider Electric and Delta Lighting, providing access to high-quality components like Merlin Gerin, Square D, and Telemecanique. Their solutions cater to commercial, residential, and industrial projects, including turnkey construction and regeneration projects, with approvals for Dubai's Public Works sector.

Al Taqwa Electric specializes in low-voltage electrical products, including breakers, switches, and distribution boards. They provide switchgear assembly, GRP enclosures, control panels, and energy-saving devices. Al Taqwa focuses on delivering cost-effective, high-quality solutions for power distribution, automation, and process control across the UAE and GCC.

Verger Delporte, established in 1977, is a UAE-based engineering firm offering electrical contracting, power distribution, and turnkey solutions. They provide specialized LV distribution systems, automation, and mechanical solutions, emphasizing quality, innovation, and long-term reliability for diverse industrial applications.
