

Wholesale Price of Square-Head Beam Splitter

AI Overview

Square-head (cube) beam splitters typically range from $20 to $200 per unit wholesale, depending on size, material, and coating. Pricing Overview Square-head beam splitters, often referred to as cube beam splitters, are made from optical glass or quartz and are available in sizes from 50 mm to 100 mm per side. Wholesale prices vary based on material quality, anti-reflection coatings, and reflectivity specifications. Standard AR-coated glass cubes with 50% reflectivity generally start around $20–$50 per unit, while high-precision or polarizing versions can cost $100–$200 per unit. Bulk orders from Chinese manufacturers or platforms like Alibaba, DHgate, and Made-in-China often provide discounted rates for large quantities.

Material and Coating Considerations Optical Glass or Quartz: Durable, scratch-resistant, and suitable for visible, UV, or IR light. AR Coatings: Reduce reflection losses and improve transmission efficiency, often included in higher-priced models. Polarizing Options: Used in photonics or laser applications, typically at the higher end of the price range.

Supplier Options Alibaba and Made-in-China: Offer a wide range of cube beam splitters with competitive factory pricing and bulk discounts. DHgate: Provides bulk purchasing options with trusted suppliers and direct-from-China pricing. AliExpress: Suitable for smaller wholesale orders or budget-friendly options, including basic cube and prism beam splitters.

Practical Tips Confirm the wavelength range (visible, UV, IR) to match your application. Check reflectivity and transmission ratios to ensure proper beam splitting. Request bulk quotes directly from suppliers to secure the best wholesale pricing. Consider shipping and import costs when ordering from international suppliers. By comparing suppliers and specifications, buyers can find square-head beam splitters that balance cost, quality...
